

About Steve Meisenheimer

As an early entrepreneur, Steve Meisenheimer would go door-to-door trimming trees to work his way through school. He continued growing his business until it became the largest commercial tree service in the Southwest. Steve found his passion in business and has now owned nine companies before founding a management consulting firm where he advises business leaders through the struggles of leading and managing their companies.

Steve also speaks professionally to business organizations on the topics of leadership and management.

He is actively involved with the Institute of Management Consultants, National Speakers Association and Toastmasters International and has had the pleasure of speaking to a wide range of audiences.

Steve has been married for twenty-four years and has three daughters. He has published over a hundred articles, written three books, hosted a radio show, and is now passionate about helping others live their dreams as well.

Contact Information

610 East Bell Road #2-418 | Phoenix, Arizona 85022 | (602) 889-0155 | Steve@MeisenheimerInc.com
MeisenheimerInc.com | MeisenheimerOnLeadership.com | MeisenheimerOnStrategy.com
MeisenheimerOnManagement | TheEffectiveLeader.com | TheBusinessOwnersHandbook.com

Mission Statement

Through our pursuits of personal and professional excellence, as well as our ongoing study of current business practices, we create effective business leaders by:

1. Living out our values in our personal and professional lives.
2. Teaching the principles of excellent leadership and management.
3. Mastering the art of communicating complex ideas in a way everyone can understand them and everyone can use them.

Consultant

Meisenheimer consults for business leaders who want greater confidence that they will be able to maximize the full potential of their companies, while gaining the respect and admiration of their peers and followers.

Presentations

Meisenheimer speaks to a wide range of organizations on the topics of personal and professional development. His audiences primarily include organizational leaders and managers.

Product Development And Distribution

1. Meisenheimer has authored three books,
 - The Business Owner's Handbook – How to Succeed in Business: Volume One
 - The Business Owner's Handbook – How to Succeed in Business: Volume Two
 - Where Are You Taking Us? A Leader's Guide to Vision & Mission
2. Created a leadership and management audio training program called The Effective Leader Series
3. Publishes a free monthly written and audio newsletter for businesspeople called "Your Strategic Advantage" geared toward leadership and management development